

GROUP TOURS – TEN QUICK STOPS

- Because we're midway between New Orleans and Lafayette, the Cajun Coast is an excellent place to stop and have lunch at one of our local Cajun restaurants.
- Stop at one of our main streets, walk around, stretch your legs and do a little shopping. With notice, refreshments and discounts will be available.
- Have a gourmet picnic basket lunch at one of our historic homes or the Wedell-Williams Aviation & Cypress Sawmill Museum, a Louisiana State Museum.
- Schedule a pick-me-up coffee and snack break at one of the attractions.
- Tour the International Petroleum Museum and have lunch in the galley of the "Mr. Charlie" oil rig.
- Super Wal-Mart is always open and easily accessible.
- In October, November and December stop and pick your own satsumas.
- Have a picnic lunch in Lawrence Park and go shopping in Morgan City's Historic District.
- Go bird watching at the Brownell Carillon Bell Tower.
- Walk on a 21-foot seawall and get a bird's-eye view of the Atchafalaya River.
